

Astrology of
JUNE 26 - JULY 4
Guide

This will cover the major astrology from June 26th to July 4th, and covers 6 major aspects.

On June 26th, Mercury is trine Saturn at 2:10 PM eastern time, 11:10 AM pacific time. This comes with both at 19 degrees 25 minutes, Mercury in Cancer and Saturn in Pisces. Trines are beneficial aspects putting the two planets in signs of the same element, giving harmony. Mercury rules the mind, and Saturn is disciplined, so Mercury trine Saturn is an excellent time for working on ideas, putting together plans, gathering facts and figures, and giving something real focus. Mercury is the little picture and details while Saturn is long-term plans, so we can take care of the details of the long-term plans we have to make them more realistic.

The Moon is in Pisces, so we may benefit from intuitive insights, and we can infuse some imagination into the mundane. This would be especially helpful for any creative projects and ventures. Since the Moon is in the same sign as Saturn, this heightens our discipline.

For Aries, Mercury trine Saturn lights up your fourth and twelfth houses, which can give excellent memory, and you might be recalling things from the past. You may work on plans starting something from the ground up, but you do the work on your own and quietly, without needing to deal with others yet.

For Taurus, Mercury trine Saturn activates your third and eleventh houses, keeping you active and engaged. Your mind can go quickly, and you can make decisions fast. There can be a change you need to work on, and you can get ideas for how to do that. Your ideas can help you with your dreams for the future, and you may spend some time focusing on those dreams.

For Gemini, Mercury trine Saturn occurs in your second and tenth houses, the houses of money and career. Mercury is your ruler, and in the second house, keeps your mind steady. You can make decisions that you're confident in, and put together plans for your goals. These plans can benefit you long-term.

For Cancer, Mercury trine Saturn targets you specifically since Mercury is in your sign. This puts Mercury in the first house and Saturn in the ninth. You can feel extra disciplined and focused, and the flood of ideas and thoughts you've had with Mercury in your sign can get controlled. Focus on a new beginning that opens up options in your life. If you're a Cancer Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born July 9th - 13th.

For Leo, Mercury trine Saturn lights up your twelfth and eighth houses. This is more serious for you, and you can take time to yourself to work on ideas and plans on your own. These may focus on ways you can take control of something, and ways you can transform something. You can have a better sense of serious matters, and can feel guided toward solutions.

For Virgo. Mercury trine Saturn activates your eleventh and seventh houses. The eleventh house rules friends and acquaintances while the seventh house rules your relationships and partners, so you may benefit from chatting with a friend or trusted partner, or even conversing with a group for feedback.

For Libra, Mercury trine Saturn occurs in your tenth and sixth houses, the houses of career and work, so this may focus on a project you're trying to get done, and you can use disciplined focus to make strides with smaller tasks and chores. You can work on plans for long-term goals, and can pay attention to the details.

For Scorpio, Mercury trine Saturn targets your ninth and fifth houses. This helps you think bigger and brighter, and with more creativity, so this is a great aspect for working on a creative project or venture. You can come up with big ideas for making strides, and can get excited by what you're doing.

For Sagittarius, Mercury trine Saturn lights up your eighth and fourth houses. Your focus can be serious and intense right now, and you can be more passionate about whatever you're working on. You can make improvements at home, or with the foundation of something, and can make plans for strengthening yourself internally.

For Capricorn, Mercury trine Saturn occurs in your seventh and third houses. This can make communication with others more helpful for you, and you can communicate with others, especially one-on-one. This can lead to more ideas for you, and you may work on being more disciplined with your short-term planning.

For Aquarius, Mercury trine Saturn activates your sixth and second houses, the houses of work and money. You can have an eye for the details right now, and this can help you with paying attention to financial details and making plans to improve your financial situation. You can be practical about it.

For Pisces, Mercury trine Saturn targets you directly since Saturn is in your sign, and they're placed in the fifth and first houses. Mercury in the fifth house makes you more creative, but Saturn in your sign has made you more practical. This aspect helps with being practical with your creativity, so you can do something tangible with a creative idea. If you're a Pisces Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born March 7th - 11th.

On June 29th we have two aspects, the first being Venus sextile Mars, but this is at 12:49 AM eastern, so it's June 28th at 9:49 PM pacific time. They're at 14 degrees 39 minutes, with Venus in Cancer and Mars in Taurus. Sextiles are beneficial aspects, and Venus and Mars tend to ignite sparks and creativity. We can be more affectionate, passionate, and fun, but in a more controlled way.

The Moon is in Aries and closely conjunct the North Node for this aspect. This helps give some inspired action, and with Mars being the natural ruler of Aries, the affection, passion, and creativity we have can help push us toward our potential and purpose.

For Aries, Venus sextile Mars occurs in your fourth and second houses. Emotional connections with others can get grounding energy, and you can feel more loyal to those you care about. You can show emotional support for others, and help them feel more secure. Creatively, your emotions can inspire you and you can stick to creative projects you start.

For Taurus, Venus sextile Mars targets you specifically with Mars in your sign, putting Venus in the third house and Mars in the first. Mars in your sign brings you lots of energy, and Venus in the third house gives you ideas and opens up your mind. You can take action with an idea, and you can hear news or find information that motivates you to act. If you're a Taurus Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born May 2nd - 6th.

For Gemini, Venus sextile Mars activates your second and twelfth houses. Your energy can be strong alone, and your imagination can be more grounded. You can take your time with what you're doing for yourself, and you can clear the deck for when Mars moves into your sign.

For Cancer, Venus sextile Mars targets you with Venus in your sign, and this puts Venus in your first house and Mars in your eleventh. Venus in your sign makes you more charming, attractive, and creative, and this helps you get along with others and make new acquaintances with Mars in the eleventh. You may want to spend time with a friend or group. If you're a Cancer Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born July 3rd - 6th.

For Leo, Venus sextile Mars lights up for twelfth and tenth houses. You may opt to get more time to yourself to work on your long-term plans and make strides with a goal. You can feel pretty ambitious right now, and can hit new heights with the work you put in.

For Virgo, Venus sextile Mars occurs in your eleventh and ninth houses, and you can work on making changes that open up new opportunities for you. New connections with new people can also help open you up. You can feel more daring, and willing to step outside of your comfort zone.

For Libra, Venus sextile Mars activates your tenth and eighth houses. Your ambition can be high, and you can be passionate about what you're working toward. You may take control of something, and this helps you move forward with a goal. You can transform something that helps you hit a new height.

For Scorpio, Venus sextile Mars lights up your ninth and seventh houses. You can enjoy opening up to new experiences, and this might come with the help of others. You can be gregarious with others, and enjoy telling stories and sharing wisdom. You can welcome the company.

For Sagittarius, Venus sextile Mars occurs in your eighth and sixth houses. You can channel passionate energy into your work, a project you're pursuing, or to making changes in your daily life to get more done. You can take a serious approach, and this helps give you more control.

For Capricorn, Venus sextile Mars activates your seventh and fifth houses, and you can spend more time with others and enjoy your interactions with others. You can be more loving, helpful, and affectionate, and want to be around your loved ones. This can be a good time for romance and sparks.

For Aquarius, Venus sextile Mars lights up your sixth and fourth houses. You can take care of the little things at home, and may do some tidying up. You can also take care of yourself emotionally, and small gestures can make you feel more secure. You may work on the details of something you're starting from the ground up.

For Pisces, Venus sextile Mars occurs in your fifth and third houses. This increases your creativity, and you can come up with more creative ideas. You likely want more time for what you find fun, and less on the mundane, or just a break from the mundane to focus on what you enjoy.

Then Mercury is sextile Uranus at 10:20 PM eastern, 7:20 PM pacific time. They're at 25 degrees 40 minutes, with Mercury in Cancer and Uranus in Taurus. Mercury is the mind and expression while Uranus is change and the unconventional, so this is a helpful aspect to think outside the box, work on plans for change, and give more thought to the future. We can be hopeful with our ideas and more open with our plans.

The Moon is still in Aries, but now conjunct Chiron instead of the North Node for this aspect. The ideas and plans we have for change or for the future might help us with healing and personal growth.

For Aries, Mercury sextile Uranus occurs in your fourth and second houses. This can help ground your mind a little, and you can focus on plans for something that you're working on from the ground up, and can work on making tweaks to those plans to be more attainable.

For Taurus, Mercury sextile Uranus targets you specifically with Uranus in your sign, and this puts Uranus in your first house and Mercury in your third. You can embrace unconventional ideas and take action with small changes, and can be open with the changes you're making or the dreams you're focused on. If you're a Taurus Sun, this is strongest for you if you're born May 13th - 18th.

For Gemini, Mercury sextile Uranus lights up your second and twelfth houses, helping you stick to a decision or idea you come up with, but you may do so quietly, without needing others to know too much and risk getting in the way or changing your mind.

For Cancer, Mercury sextile Uranus targets you with Mercury in your sign and first house, and Uranus in your eleventh house. You can focus on your own ideas and plans for your dreams, for changes, or for the future, and unconventional approaches might be of help. If you're a Cancer Sun, this is strongest for you if you're born July 15th - 19th.

For Leo, Mercury sextile Uranus activates your twelfth and tenth houses, so you're doing well organizing your thoughts on your own, finalizing plans, and sorting through ideas, and this helps with your long-term plans, or focuses on the goals you have right now and want to make strides with.

For Virgo, Mercury sextile Uranus occurs in your eleventh and ninth houses, and you're thinking way outside the box for you, and this can open you up to big ideas and new experiences. You can get excited by the ideas you have, and can be open to an adventure.

For Libra, Mercury sextile Uranus lights up your tenth and eighth houses, and this helps you get disciplined with your ideas and long-term plans, and you can channel passionate energy into them. You can come up with new ideas for changes and transformations you're working on, and can be realistic with your outlook.

For Scorpio, Mercury sextile Uranus activates your ninth and seventh houses, helping you think bigger and be more optimistic, and you can bring this into your dealings with others. Changes in your connections may open you up to new experiences, and you can find new ways to be better balanced.

For Sagittarius, Mercury sextile Uranus occurs in your eighth and sixth houses, helping you get to the heart of something, and you can get sudden insights with the details that help you find a solution. You can dedicate yourself to a small project, and can make strides quickly.

For Capricorn, Mercury sextile Uranus lights up your seventh and fifth houses, and you can enjoy spending time with others, and can bounce ideas off of them. This can help you feel closer, and you can be more expressive with love and affection, and more inspired creatively.

For Aquarius, Mercury sextile Uranus activates your sixth and fourth houses, giving you greater focus on the details, and this can help you dealing with home and family matters, or give you ideas for ways you can strengthen the foundation of something, or get back to basics with something.

For Pisces, Mercury sextile Uranus occurs in your fifth and third houses, and you can feel extra creative, and focus on creative ideas you have. You can get inspired unexpectedly, and want to focus on creative projects. You can also be more open with expressing affection and romance.

On July 2nd, we have two more aspects. First is Mercury trine Neptune at 7:53 AM eastern, 4:53 AM pacific, with both at 29 degrees 55 minutes, Cancer for Mercury and Pisces for Neptune. With Mercury ruling the mind and Neptune ruling imagination, this aspect brings great energy for imagination and creativity. We can focus on creative projects, and anything we do can benefit from creativity.

This aspect comes at the anaretic degree. There are thirty degrees in every Zodiac sign, and 29 degrees is the last degree. This is called the anaretic degree. This is supercharged energy, so that means this aspect is pretty supercharged, and we're extra creative and imaginative. We want to take some action with this, and if we can control it, this can help us create great works.

This aspect occurs about an hour before Mercury exits Cancer and enters Leo, and just over an hour after Neptune turns retrograde, or appears to move backward, in Pisces. Mercury is readying to move on, so we may feel the push to take action quickly before Mercury goes to the next sign, and we move on to something else. With Neptune having just turned retrograde, we might take action in different ways and need to consider another method or option for taking action.

The Moon is in Taurus for this aspect, and conjunct Uranus, and is on the midpoint of Mercury and Neptune. This adds to the idea that we may take action in a different way thanks to unconventional Uranus, and trusting our emotions to guide us might be the right call with the Moon.

For Aries, Mercury trine Neptune lights up your fourth and twelfth houses, and you can have an easier time tending to your emotional needs on your own. You may get lost in your daydreams and imagination, and want time alone to rest and give your mind a break from the mundane.

For Taurus, Mercury trine Neptune activates your third and eleventh houses, and your mind can be super active, and you can focus on your dreams for the future and changes you hope to make. This may have been elusive for you in the past, but can seem clearer to you with this aspect.

For Gemini, Mercury trine Neptune occurs in your second and tenth houses, and you can dedicate yourself to your goals, and work on plans carefully. Your intuition can be strong as you focus on your goals, and you can ground yourself with a practical outlook.

For Cancer, Mercury trine Neptune targets you directly as Mercury is in your sign. They're in the first and ninth houses, and you can be open with what's on your mind and the big ideas you want to pursue. You can think bigger and brighter, and may want to take action with one of those ideas. If you're a Cancer Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born July 19th and later.

For Leo, Mercury trine Neptune lights up your twelfth and eighth houses, and you can be passionate about your creative pursuits, but may prefer to work on them on your own. You can take them seriously, and can feel that getting one finished now helps to empower you.

For Virgo, Mercury trine Neptune activates your eleventh and seventh houses, and helps you to bounce ideas off of friends and groups, and open up your mind. You can enjoy getting feedback from others, and can give their opinion greater weight. You may strike a balance with your ideas.

For Libra, Mercury trine Neptune occurs in your tenth and sixth houses, giving you a good view of things long-term, and helping you to be more disciplined with your projects, work, chores, and in daily life. You can find practical ways of improving organization and productivity.

For Scorpio, Mercury trine Neptune lights up your ninth and fifth houses, making you more positive. You can focus on creative ventures and hobbies, and can opt for new experiences or big ideas that inspire you in new ways in your life. Your optimism can make you more joyful.

For Sagittarius, Mercury trine Neptune activates your eighth and fourth houses, and you can be more passionate about your ideas and have a serious outlook, and your emotions can inspire you. Your emotions can tie into your creativity, and you can feel strong when you're focused.

For Capricorn, Mercury trine Neptune occurs in your seventh and third houses, and conversations with others can be enlightening, or you may get news or information you've been looking for. You may strive to surround yourself with peace, and this helps you make use of creativity.

For Aquarius, Mercury trine Neptune lights up your sixth and second houses, which can help you pay closer attention to the details, and you can be more practical with creativity. You can focus on ideas that help you with work, in your daily life, or financially, and can feel more confident.

For Pisces, Mercury trine Neptune targets you specifically with Neptune in your sign and in the first house, and Mercury in the fifth house. This is highly creative, and you can use your creativity and imagination to have more fun and enjoy yourself. Any projects you pursue, can be ones you greatly enjoy and are inspired by. If you're a Pisces Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born March 17th and later.

The second aspect for July 2nd is Venus trine Saturn at 9:41 PM eastern, 6:41 PM pacific time. They're at 19 degrees 25 minutes, with Venus in Cancer and Saturn in Pisces. Venus is what we enjoy, and Saturn is our goals and ambitions, so this aspect can help us get focused on the goals we have, work to make strides, and we can feel more invested in and committed to what we're trying to achieve.

The Moon is now in Gemini for this aspect, and moving to conjunct Jupiter. The Moon helps us with the ideas and plans we're working on, and as it moves to Jupiter, our options expand and grow.

The houses activated for this aspect are the same as for Mercury trine Neptune the day before, but with different planets involved, slightly adjusting the effect for all of us.

For Aries, Venus trine Saturn activates your fourth and twelfth houses, and you can take care of matters at home or with family on your own. You can work well by yourself, and you can use the time to clear out, which helps you feel more secure emotionally.

For Taurus, Venus trine Saturn occurs in your third and eleventh houses, opening you up and helping you communicate and express yourself. This can help you get focused on your future as well, and you can work on plans to eventually make a dream reality.

For Gemini, Venus trine Saturn lights up your second and tenth houses, and you can work on being practical with your goals and making steady strides. You can feel confident in your choices, and understand how what you're doing will lead to what you want.

For Cancer, Venus trine Saturn targets you specifically with Venus in your sign, and Venus is in the first house with Saturn in the ninth house. You can be more charming and pleasant, and have a good focus on your goals and direction. You can enjoy what you're trying to achieve, and can make strides in new ways. If you're a Cancer Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born July 8th - 13th.

For Leo, Venus trine Saturn activates your twelfth and eighth houses, and you can feel comfortable working on your own and taking control. You can focus on what you need to change and transform, or what you want to get to the heart of, and it can be easier for you to do.

For Virgo, Venus trine Saturn occurs in your eleventh and seventh houses, helping you be more independent and willing to try new things. You may work with friends or groups, though you may shy away from one-on-one work where you may end up doing everything yourself.

For Libra, Venus trine Saturn lights up your tenth and sixth houses, focusing on your goals and work. You can enjoy making strides with your goals by getting the little things done, and it can help you to get more organized and set your schedule up to maximize your time and energy.

For Scorpio, Venus trine Saturn activates your ninth and fifth houses, and you can enjoy new experiences that inspire you creatively. You can make use of that inspiration in a productive way, and can open up to more possibilities for you.

For Sagittarius, Venus trine Saturn occurs in your eighth and fourth houses, and you can feel extra passionate about your goals, and you can use that to work on the foundation of your goals, to strengthen the work you've already done, or to get started from the ground up.

For Capricorn, Venus trine Saturn lights up your seventh and third houses, and you can work well with others to make strides with what you want. You can drill down on ideas, sort through, and finish plans, and input from others can be of help.

For Aquarius, Venus trine Saturn activates your sixth and second houses, and you can feel extra productive and enjoy getting little things done, and this can help you feel more secure. You may benefit from a practical outlook and a grounded approach.

For Pisces, Venus trine Saturn targets you specifically with Saturn in your sign and in the first house, and Venus is in the fifth house. Saturn has made you more responsible, disciplined, and serious, while Venus is trying to pull you out of your shell and make use of your creativity. You can enjoy taking action with a new creative project or venture. If you're a Pisces Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born March 7th - 11th.

The final aspect we have to cover comes on July 3rd at 3:27 AM eastern, 12:27 AM pacific time, and that's Mercury opposite Pluto. Mercury is now in Leo, opposite Pluto in Aquarius, and both are at 1 degree 19 minutes. This is the only challenging aspect during this period, and hard Pluto can show power struggles and control issues. In opposition to Mercury, this might mean we're prone to fights, misunderstandings, and need to open our minds and be better at clear communication.

The Moon is in Gemini and now conjunct Jupiter, and we may benefit from paying attention to the big picture, being more positive, or being more logical and not as wrapped up in emotion.

For Aries, Mercury opposite Pluto occurs in your fifth and eleventh houses, and you may struggle with dealing with others. You may crave more independence and want to get away, or want too much time with others and come across as needy. Try to find some balance between the two.

For Taurus, Mercury opposite Pluto activates your fourth and tenth house, and the foundation of something might feel shaky. Your emotions can take over, and you may try to squash this. Try to get to the heart of the issue, and work on strengthening yourself at your core.

For Gemini, Mercury opposite Pluto lights up your third and ninth houses, and communication may come a little difficult. You may need to do a better job at listening, and opening up your mind to other opinions. Try to keep yourself busy, especially your mind, to avoid fights.

For Cancer, Mercury opposite Pluto occurs in your second and eighth houses, and you may feel stubborn about something, which makes you stuck. Try to figure out what the root of the issue is. This might be something deeply-hidden, and may require a transformation to solve.

For Leo, Mercury opposite Pluto targets you specifically with Mercury in your sign and first house, and Pluto in the seventh house. You may want to give yourself more attention, but others can demand more from you, making you feel out of balance. Try to work on issues that lead to this. If you're a Leo Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born July 26th and earlier.

For Virgo, Mercury opposite Pluto activates your twelfth and sixth houses, and you may require more time to yourself to rest and recharge, but feel that work and chores are keeping you from that. Try to get moments where you can, and work on relaxing more.

For Libra, Mercury opposite Pluto lights up your eleventh and fifth houses, and you may want to get some independence to go your own way, but have to deal with others who need more attention. Try to find balance, and work on small changes to help you feel more in control.

For Scorpio, Mercury opposite Pluto occurs in your tenth and fourth houses, and you may want to focus on your goals and long-term plans, but home and family matters or emotions get in the way. You may need to work on taking care of the foundation of something, and make a transformation at the core.

For Sagittarius, Mercury opposite Pluto activates your ninth and third houses, and you can think big but may feel you need to shrink this down. Work on taking care of the details of your big ideas and plans, and focus on giving yourself some space to think.

For Capricorn, Mercury opposite Pluto lights up your eighth and second houses, and you may want to dig deeper into something, but can feel stuck in your attempts to try. Don't give in to frustration, and instead, try to take small steps, and acknowledge those steps.

For Aquarius, Mercury opposite Pluto targets you specifically since Pluto is in your sign and the first house, and Mercury is in the seventh house. More focus might be given to the people in your life, but this can feel like a distraction from your own stuff. Try to work on balance so you don't get ignored too. If you're an Aquarius Sun, this can be strongest for you if you're born January 24th and earlier.

For Pisces, Mercury opposite Pluto occurs in your sixth and twelfth house, and you may want to get work done and set up your schedule, but energy can be low at times, challenging you. Try to maximize the moments you have to do what you need to, and prioritize what must be done first.

Alright, so there we have it! Good luck with these transits!
