

May 7 2024 Taurus New Moon:

On May 7th 2024, we have a Taurus New Moon, and this is a time to relax a little bit. April came with some super strong Moons thanks to an Aries Solar Eclipse bound with Mercury retrograde, and the emotionally intense Scorpio Full Moon. We're pulling away from these, and can focus on how we can better be present, centered, and grounded.

We may use the Taurus New Moon to pursue opportunities to improve stability and security in our lives. We can be more dedicated to projects we've begun, and may take our time with brand new projects so we can make sure we have all of our bases covered. We can stick with it once we start, and this can help us make progress, though in a slow and steady way instead of lightning fast. We're okay with this though, and see the value in a slower approach.

We can also focus on the physical world around us as Taurus rules our resources and finances, and is an earth sign connecting to the physical. We may have opportunities to access new resources, or find new ways to use resources we have in a more beneficial way. We may focus on setting up our finances better, or have to make an important financial decision. We can go about this in a Taurus way, and won't be pushed or rushed into decisions. We understand that being impulsive can create more problems than it solves.

This energy is very strong with this New Moon thanks to a Taurus stellium. A stellium occurs when 3 or more planets are together in one Zodiac sign, and the Sun, Venus, Jupiter, and Uranus are all together in Taurus. Jupiter is near the end of its tour of Taurus and exits on May 25th, so we have about 3 more weeks after this New Moon to access the energy. Jupiter is beneficial expansion, so we can expand on stability and security, on our confidence levels, on our resources, and on our finances. The New Moon acts as a trigger to help us take action before Jupiter moves on.

This New Moon is sextile, which is a beneficial aspect, Saturn in Pisces, and Saturn is disciplined and focused, so this helps us maximize the energy of the New Moon. Saturn helps us to go about things in the right way and for the right reasons, and we can make plans and stick to them. We can be smart with our choices, and manage our responsibilities well, or at least better than we have been.

There is one challenge with this Taurus New Moon though, and that's Ceres retrograde, which starts on May 15th, about 8 days later. A body is called retrograde in astrology when it appears to move backward through the Zodiac, and its energy can get thrown off. Ceres is argued to be the ruler of Taurus, so this can impact the New Moon energy. We may need to do things over again with the retrograde, and pick back up old resources, manage money in a way we have before, reconnect with our senses, and restabilize something in our lives.

We need to make sure we're giving ourselves support, and nurturing ourselves well. Any issues we have with getting the support we need or feeling nourished and nurtured can come out with Ceres retrograde, so we can use the New Moon to address those issues in advance, and be more proactive. This helps us go into the retrograde on better footing, and have less issues over the coming months.

For everyone, look at any Taurus parts of your natal chart to gauge the impact of the Taurus New Moon. For those who are a little more advanced, also consider your progressed and return charts, and if in a relationship, your composite chart.

By sign, Aries may feel it's extra important to improve stability and security in your life with the Taurus New Moon, and you can work on tackling blocks and issues that have gotten in the way. Opportunities can come to you to improve access and abundance, and you can feel more confident as a result. Take time to connect with the moment, to connect with your senses, and to ground yourself. This can lead to more opportunities coming your way.

Taurus can feel motivated to get something started with the New Moon in your sign, and you may focus on something that has been on hold for a few months and you can get started with quickly. You already know the steps you need to take, and you can gather any additional information you need. You can feel confident in what you're doing, and ready to go. With the impending Ceres retrograde, you may want to give yourself time to get it done, and leave room for adjustments.

Gemini may stick to doing things on your own with the Taurus New Moon, and you can get more done without others making demands or looking over your shoulder. You can use time alone to get things finished, clear out, and make room so you're ready for the next New Moon in your sign. You may want to work on reassessing your plans so you can make sure you have everything you need, and can do some extra investigating.

Cancer can pursue the unconventional with the Taurus New Moon, and you can take a different approach, and can be willing to make necessary changes. You can be open to the weird and unusual, and can be more independent and take charge in groups. You may feel more hopeful, and give more attention to the future and the dreams you have. Your connections with others may get some attention from you, and you can utilize your connections in new ways to benefit you.

Leo may hit your stride with the Taurus New Moon, and if you've been working hard and smart at something, you can make progress, get recognition, or make important connections with the right people. If you haven't been working on anything, you can set a new goal now, and can be clear about what you need to do next. There can be little things to work on initially, and your schedule may need some adjusting, but you can be willing to make the changes.

Virgo can open up your mind and life with the Taurus New Moon, and you can pursue opportunities for expansion and new experiences. You can learn from what you do, and can share this knowledge with others. You can be optimistic, come up with big ideas, and see the big picture. You may give yourself some space and time to reconnect with your heart and be joyful.

Libra may work on a transformation with the Taurus New Moon, and you can feel more in control as you do. You can focus on digging deeper, and the more you uncover, the more you can figure out a way to solve an issue. This can empower you, and you can become stronger and more passionate. Your emotions can run strong in general, so work on taking care of your emotional needs, and channel passion productively.

Scorpio can spend more time with others and be of help with the Taurus New Moon, and you can enjoy the company, reconnect, and commit to new partnerships and agreements. You can be pleasant and agreeable, and may prefer to be around peaceful people. You can take a different approach to communicating, and you may pick back up some old ideas, and can prioritize the ones you can work on with others.

Sagittarius may have a lot to get done with the Taurus New Moon, and you can make the most of the time and energy you have to get little things out of the way. You may start a new project you're enthusiastic about, or you may get attention for a project you've already been working on. You can improve your daily life, schedule, routine, and health. You may want to reconnect with the present more, and grounding yourself can help you get more done.

Capricorn can focus on creative projects and ventures with the Taurus New Moon, and you can get inspired and feel energized by creativity. You may want to make more time for fun, or pick up a new hobby, or pick back up an old one. You can connect to your heart, and can be more affectionate and romantic. Make sure to show love to yourself as well as others, and work on your connection with yourself.

Aquarius may tackle matters at home or with family with the Taurus New Moon, and you can work on a move, a home improvement project, or plan for time with those you think of as family. Personal matters get more of your attention. You can get and give emotional support, and may work on something you're starting from the ground up. Your internal foundation can be secure, and this can help you tackle an old issue that needs to be resolved.

Pisces can pursue opportunities to do something tangible with one of your ideas with the Taurus New Moon, and you can get excited by what you come up with. Your mind can be an asset, and you can get or give good news, share information, and learn something new. You can think outside the box, and you may work on plans for making progress with one of your dreams, or with something you tried to change before and want to try again.

So that's it! Wishing you love, luck, and pixie dust with the Taurus New Moon!

May 23 2024 Sagittarius Full Moon:

On May 23rd 2024, we have a Sagittarius Full Moon, and the Sagittarius Full Moon tends to be one of the lightest Full Moons of the year. Full Moons are times of emotion and can be intense, but Sagittarius is an optimistic sign who doesn't want to dwell on the bad. This means we tend to look at things in a more positive light.

Sagittarius is an energetic fire sign that rules adventure, new experiences, and wants to be on the go. With the Sagittarius Full Moon, we likely want to get space to do our own thing, and can push to get it. We can enjoy the experiences we have, and learn and grow from them. We just have to make sure we're not running away from something, and our intentions are good.

Sagittarius is one of the rulers of the mind, and governs higher learning, teaching, writing, and speaking out. This can be a time where we want to deepen our expertise, share our wisdom and knowledge, and are willing to give our opinions more freely. Whatever our opinion, we can be more emotionally connected to it and believe in what we're saying.

Sagittarius rules our beliefs, so we tend to be more emotionally invested in our beliefs. If what we believe resonates with who we are now and is good for us, we can commit further to them, but if they no longer connect with who we currently are or have been bad for us, we might question them now and seek other options. We do have to watch out for being pushy with our beliefs as well, and this might be happening because we're subconsciously questioning our beliefs and want others to validate them.

Sagittarius also rules the law, so we could see some legal developments in various high-profile cases, or related to important rulings or existing or proposed laws.

The Full Moon comes with some supercharged energy as Venus, Jupiter, and Neptune are all anaretic. There are 30 degrees in every Zodiac sign, and 29 degrees is the very last degree. This is called the anaretic degree, and it's supercharged energy. This tends to be crisis energy when it's the transit, or moving, planets like this, however the 3 planets involved are all making pleasant aspects to each other. Venus and Jupiter are conjunct or aligned, and they're two beneficial planets, so that amplifies their beneficial energy, and both of them are sextile Neptune, which is a beneficial aspect. These are all exact the same day as the Full Moon on May 23rd.

This trio brings very pleasant, easy energy, however since they are all anaretic, this is high energy. Remember they are supercharged, so there's a lot, but it's easy for us to get some control over. Venus conjunct Jupiter helps us get along, work well together, and also brings some good luck. Venus sextile Neptune helps us be more compassionate and understanding, as well as more creative. Jupiter sextile Neptune really amplifies that creativity, as well as our intuition and spirituality.

This likely makes us even more optimistic and focused on the good with this Sagittarius Full Moon. There could be some good news or positive developments with something. If nothing else, this is a highly creative period, so try to channel that productively.

Jupiter is heating up to change signs and move into Gemini just 2 days after this Full Moon on the 25th, so we are tying up loose ends and getting things done that need to be done before Jupiter moves on. With Full Moons ruling endings and culminations, and Jupiter being the natural ruler of Sagittarius, this Full Moon might bring with it important endings and culminations that have been in the making for the last year. We're ready for this and can get it done.

The Sagittarius Full Moon is sextile Pluto in Aquarius, so this just adds more beneficial energy to the mix. Pluto helps with any transformations we're working on, and gives us passion we need for whatever we do. We can take control of something, and empower ourselves. This is a very nice Full Moon and it is very welcome!

For everyone, look at any Sagittarius parts of your natal chart to gauge the impact of the Sagittarius Full Moon. For those who are a little more advanced, also consider your progressed and return charts, and if in a relationship, your composite chart.

By sign, Aries may look at the bright side with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you can stick to the positives. You can connect emotionally with your beliefs, and you may want more space to do your own thing. You can give more attention to your resources, and may want to work on finishing up a project or pursuit that has improved your access to resources.

Taurus can focus on transforming with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and this can be something you enjoy doing, that is easier for you to do, and that opens up more opportunities for you down the line. You can make use of passion and intensity, and are smart with your choices. The last year has been a new journey for you with Jupiter in your sign, and you can feel comfortable with the power you now have.

Gemini may work on improving your connections with others with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you can spend more time with others, and work on solidifying your partnerships. You can grow closer with some, and put more distance with those you don't feel a good connection with. Now that Jupiter is moving to your sign, you start focusing more on your own plans and goals, and your connections can give you help.

Cancer can get lots of little things done with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and the more you do, the more you can get done. This can be a time to get organized, make lists, and finally tackle chores that you've been putting off. You've been working on important changes in your life over the last year, and start to segway toward working on your own, clearing out, and setting up.

Leo may feel extra creative with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you may want to work on finishing a creative project, or can get inspired for a new one. You can make time to have fun and reconnect with your heart. The last year may have been one focused on your goals and what you can build, and there can be one last push to make strides before you focus more on the future.

Virgo can connect with your emotions with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you may want to take time to work on your emotional needs and spend time with those who give you emotional support. You can work on issues at home, and may focus on strengthening the foundation of something. New experiences over the last year have taught you a lot, and you can share some of that wisdom with others.

Libra may sort through your ideas and finalize your plans with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you can say what you mean and share what you're thinking more openly. This can be a good time to express yourself more openly. You may focus on finishing a big transformation that you've been working on for the last year, and can move forward with more control.

Scorpio can work to bring more stability and security to your life with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you can focus on grounding yourself to help. You may want to take things slowly, and work on being more connected to the moment. The last year may have focused more on others, and you can work on final projects and plans or arrangements, agreements, and commitments now.

Sagittarius may work on what you want for yourself with the Full Moon in your sign, and you can be more connected to what you want and what you feel. You can see important developments occur, and this might be linked to the work you've done over the last year. You can get things finished, and may get some attention for something you've worked on and done well with.

Capricorn can take time to yourself with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and you may need more time to rest and recharge, especially if you've been pushing yourself a lot lately. You can be more comfortable in the background, and want to work on your own. You can take some time to finish up a creative project, or make some decisions regarding a loved one, and you may get some extra attention.

Aquarius may work on making an important change with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and this can help you figure a way out with something that has been a bit challenging. You can work on doing things in different ways, and can embrace the unconventional. There can be something at home or that you've been working on from the ground up that sees some developments now, and you can be open to adjusting quickly.

Pisces can work on your goals with the Sagittarius Full Moon, and can focus on trying to make strides, hit new heights, and get further along your path if you do things the right way and for the right reasons. If not, you may feel overwhelmed and need to get a break to readjust. You may clear out your ideas and finish up a plan, or finish a pursuit of one of your ideas now, and this can lead to a new direction or new height.

So that's it! Wishing you love, luck, and pixie dust with the Sagittarius Full Moon!
