NOTES

ABOUT OCTOBER 2024:

October starts with the Libra Solar Eclipse on the 2nd, and we're feeling ready to get new projects and ventures started, to enter into new unions and partnerships, and make new commitments. We can strengthen anything we've already begun, and energy can be pleasant.

Jupiter turns retrograde on October 9th, and it may feel like we don't have as many opportunities with our ideas, but we likely need to get more creative with our approach. Karmic energy can be stronger, along with our intuition. This is deepened with Pluto ending its retrograde on October 11th, and in some ways we're coming, in other ways we're going, and some may flip.

Mercury enters Scorpio on October 13th, and we're better able to dig into subjects and projects, and take a serious approach. We're more passionate, intense, and transformative when the Sun also enters Scorpio on the 22nd.

Venus enters Sagittarius on the 17th, the same day as the Aries Full Moon, so we can open up to adventure and want to have more fun with others, but we also may crave a lot more space and freedom to be independent and push ahead on our own. We need to make sure we're being considerate of others, otherwise we may end up in needless fights.

What New Moon manifestations will you focus on for this New Moon? Brainstorm affirmations, rituals, and general intuitive thoughts:

Week of: October 7th – 13th 2024

Planetary Events:

Tuesday: Venus trine Mars,

Mercury trine Jupiter

Wednesday: Jupiter Retrograde

Begins in Gemini

Thursday: 2nd Quarter Moon in

Capricorn

Friday: Pluto Direct

Sunday: Mercury Enters Scorpio,

Mercury square Pluto, Sun trine

Jupiter, Ceres sextile Saturn

Passion and creativity can be high early in the week, but this isn't out of control, and instead is beneficial in some way. We can think big and bright, and we're optimistic about the way things are going. We may tap into our subconscious, spiritual selves, intuition, and karmic energy thanks to the Jupiter retrograde, and this can last for a few months. The 2nd Quarter Moon in Capricorn on Thursday helps us to make adjustments with our long-term plans for our goals over the next week. Pluto ending its retrograde on Friday can bring back passionate energy for changes, and we're wrapping up the major Capricorn cycle with Pluto shortly. The week comes to an end with intense focus on getting to the heart of matters, but we may get lost and need to make sure we're not losing sight of the details. We can see the big picture pretty well though, and we may work on improving our resources or nourishing our goals.

Make a plan for the week! How can you use creativity and passion productively, what plans can you adjust, what can you dig deeper into, and how can you nurture a goal:

Week of: October 14th – 20th 2024

Planetary Events:

Monday: Sun square Mars,
Venus opposite Uranus

Tuesday: Venus trine Neptune

Thursday: Venus Enters

Sagittarius, Aries Full Moon,

Venus sextile Pluto

Irritable energy greets us to start the week, and we can be quick to fight, impulsive, impatient, and rebellious. We need healthy outlets for extra physical energy, and to work on small changes. Imagination can soar though, and we can feel extra creative. Later in the week, we can give ourselves some space, and can take the initiative with an ending thanks to the Full Moon, but we do need to make sure we're not aggressive and pushy about it. Take control while being considerate.

Make a plan for the week! How can you work on irritations in a healthy way early in the week, which creative projects can you focus on, and how can you get a break:

Week of: October 21st – 27th 2024

Planetary Events:

Tuesday: Sun Enters Scorpio,
Mercury trine Saturn, Sun square
Pluto

Thursday: 4th Quarter Moon in
Leo, Mars sextile Uranus,
Mercury sextile Ceres

Energy can be passionate early in the week, but this can lead to fights if we're not careful. We likely need to transform something for the better, and mental discipline can be of help as we work on this. We can get support for our ideas, come up with new ideas for resources, and push outside our comfort zones later in the week. The 4th Quarter Moon in Leo on Thursday helps us to clear out creatively over the next week.

Make a plan for the week! What can you transform, how can you push outside of your comfort zone, and what can you clear out:

Week of: October 28th – November 3rd 2024

Planetary Events:

Monday: Mars trine Neptune,
Venus square Saturn

Wednesday: Mercury opposite
Uranus

Thursday: Mercury trine Neptune

Friday: Scorpio New Moon

Saturday: Mercury trine Mars,
Mercury sextile Pluto, Mercury
Enters Sagittarius

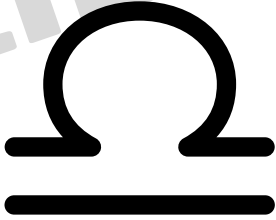

Sunday: Mars opposite Pluto,
Venus opposite Jupiter, Mars
Enters Leo

Energy can be focused on spiritual ventures and creative pursuits to start the week, though discipline may be lacking, so maybe don't expect too much. We may struggle with changes midweek, and can lash out if we feel boxed in, but that doesn't solve the problem. Imagination can be of better use, and working on transformations for the better with the Scorpio New Moon can lead to better outcomes. Mental energy can soar over the weekend, and we can research what we need to and focus on the big picture, though we may feel a little too good at times and lack discipline. Frustrations may boil over to end the week, and this can reveal problems that have been simmering for some time. We need to work on solutions and have healthy outlets, otherwise we can blow.

Make a plan for the week! Which spiritual or creative ventures can you focus on, how can you better use imagination, what can you research, and what can you solve:

ABOUT:

The Libra Solar Eclipse is fantastic for focusing on our connections, our relationships, and our alliances. We can create new ones, and can commit to existing ones that are beneficial to our lives. We can benefit overall from compromise, negotiation, and mediation, and this isn't a time to fight. That only leads to bigger problems. The answer is diplomacy.

We can also commit ourselves to someone or something, and can get excited by this. We may want to bring more balance and peace to our lives as well, and having peace and harmony around us helps us to be decisive and not get thrown by developments easily.

We also had a Libra Solar Eclipse in October 2023, so this is the second and final Libra Solar Eclipse for this set. What is focused on with the 2024 eclipse might tie into what was focused on with the 2023 eclipse, and we can build on what we began, make progress, and finalize.

The previous Pisces Lunar Eclipse starts a new cycle, but is focused more on clearing out than it is on starting anew. This might be to give us a chance to wrap things up with the Libra eclipse, and if there is anything new to begin, it might be something that is worked on very quickly and done probably within a few months.
