Lesson 1: Saturn in Aquarius: March - July 2020, December 2020 - March 2023

Entrance: Saturn enters Aquarius on March 21st 2020 at 11:48PM ET/8:48PM PT. Saturn stays in Aquarius until July 1st (7:36PM ET/4:36PM PT) and comes back to Aquarius December 17th 2020 (12:03AM ET/December 16th 9:03PM PT), where it stays until March 7th 2023 (9:34AM ET/6:34AM PT).

Saturn has been in Capricorn, the sign it naturally rules, and Aquarius is a pretty different sign from Capricorn. Capricorn rules the traditional, the status quo, and is practical, while Aquarius rules the unconventional, change, and individuality. Coming out of the major Capricorn stellium of 2020, we've likely spent a lot of time planning, carefully working toward goals, and thinking about our lives long-term. This hopefully sets us up for Saturn in Aquarius, and we can start focusing on the future and what we hope to have and be.

There is likely going to be some major changes with Saturn in Aquarius, which is focused on the areas of life ruled by the house(s) Saturn in Aquarius rules for you. These are changes that need to be made in order to move forward and push outside of your comfort zone. In Saturn's way, we have to do things right though, and not give in to impulse too much.

We're likely going to crave a lot more independence and focus more on individuality. Boxing yourself in isn't so great! Playing by the rules in the way with Capricorn, but Aquarius wants us to be true to our unique selves, and that may mean bending, breaking, rewriting the rules. As long as it's not just rebellion for rebellion's sake, this can be a good thing. Again, you'll find this impacts you most with the areas of life ruled by the house(s) Saturn in Aquarius tours in your natal chart.

If you haven't been true to yourself lately, this transit can kick you to change that. The more untrue you've been to yourself, the harder it can be. If there's a change you've been avoiding making that you really should make, this transit can force challenges that push you to do it. If you've been keeping to the rules too much, this transit can force your mind open to think outside of the box.

Aquarius rules your dreams for the future, and Saturn is the planet of reality, so this combo wants to take dreams (Aquarius) and make them real (Saturn). This is an excellent time to take a dream you've had and actually do something with it. Ideally, you set the goal while Saturn's in Capricorn so you can go into Saturn in Aquarius ready to make a big push, but even if you wait until Saturn is in Aquarius, it's still not too late. Some may feel that they have to squash their dreams, that they're not realistic at all, while Saturn is in Aquarius, but this may actually be a test. Pass and it becomes real, fail and it doesn't. Stand true to yourself and a positive vision.

The main keywords to focus on are:

- Change
- Dreams
- Independence
- Individuality
- The unconventional

Lesson 2: Important Times During Saturn in Aquarius

Saturn Retrograde:

Saturn retrograde can be a time when we feel extra restricted, extra limited, and have extra responsibilities. We're more aware of what we have to do, and the lessons we have to learn. There is often a feeling of karmic at play, and some of what we deal with may be sorting through and letting go of karmic baggage while Saturn is retrograde. This frees us up to make more progress once the retrograde ends.

In Aquarius, this may mean we're dealing with karmic issues related to independence, individuality, change, the future, our hopes and dreams, our place in the world, and our perspective.

The Saturn retrograde in Aquarius periods are:

- May 23rd 2021 (5:19AM ET/2:19AM PT) @ 13 degrees 31 minutes Aquarius to October 10th 2021 (10:17PM ET/7:17PM PT) @ 6 degrees 53 minutes Aquarius
- June 4th 2022 (5:47PM ET/2:47PM PT) @ 25 degrees 15 minutes Aquarius to October 23rd 2022 (12:07AM ET/October 22nd 9:07PM PT) @ 18 degrees 35 minutes Aquarius

Saturn in Aquarius Aspects to Transit Planets:

Saturn in Aquarius is light on transit aspects to the other major planets (Jupiter, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto), only making 2 major aspects. The first is a conjunction (alignment) with transit Jupiter early in this tour on Aquarius, on December 21st 2020 (1:21PM ET/10:21AM PT) at 0 degrees 29 minutes Aquarius. They move into Aquarius around the same time, with Saturn entering December 17th 2020 and Jupiter entering December 19th 2020, and come together quickly.

This feels like a massive push to focus on dreams, change, the future, individuality, and independence. We're right out of the Capricorn stellium and get this big Aquarius bang immediately! Think about your future, your hopes and dreams, and be true to yourself no matter what. This is likely going to be felt in the areas of life ruled by the house 0 degrees Aquarius falls for you in your natal chart. It'll be stronger for you if it aspects any of your planets or angles. The aspects are:

Conjunction: 0 - 2 degrees Aquarius (super for you! Extra crazy focus on whatever it rules, definitely focus on trying to do something with whatever it rules)

Semisextile: 0 - 1 degree Capricorn or Pisces (semisextiles are positive aspects but not as strong as the others; you can make use of positive energy with a lot of effort)

Sextile: 0 - 2 degrees Aries or Sagittarius (beneficial aspect; opportunities can be presented to you that you can pursue with greater ease)

Square: 0 - 2 degrees Taurus or Scorpio (challenging aspect; you may feel difficulties arise that you need to conquer first before you can make anything positive happen)

Trine: 0 - 2 degrees Gemini or Libra (beneficial aspect; opportunities and success comes more easily, though there can be some laziness that has to be managed)

Quincunx: 0 - 1 degree Cancer or Virgo (quincunxes are challenging aspects of erratic energy, and you may have to adjust to developments)

Opposition: 0 - 2 degrees Leo (challenging aspect; something outside of yourself may be pushing against you and flexibility may be required)

The other aspect Saturn in Aquarius makes is a square to transit Uranus in Taurus. This aspect can challenge us as we're moving toward the changes, independence and individuality, and there may be lessons that we have to learn from developments, or lessons we have to learn first before we can make what we want happen. This can stir up frustration and impulse, but giving in to that should be avoided, otherwise more problems pop up. Focus on the lessons and work through blocks. You'll feel this hardest if you have planets or points at 6 - 14 degrees Taurus, Leo, Scorpio, or Aquarius.

This aspect is exact 3 times in 2021, so it's essentially in effect for the entire year. They are:

February 17th at 2:08PM ET/11:08AM PT @ 7 degrees 13 minutes

June 14th at 6:01PM ET/3:01PM PT @ 13 degrees 6 minutes

December 24th at 2:17AM ET/December 23rd at 11:19PM PT @ 11 degrees 5 minutes

Mercury Retrograde in Aquarius:

When Mercury retrogrades in the same sign as Saturn, this can make us more aware of the challenges we're dealing with from Saturn, and we can feel the restrictions and limitations more clearly. Lessons become more important, especially from a karmic perspective. The lessons we learn while Mercury is retrograde in Saturn's sign may be ones we have to spiritually let go of baggage and grow.

In Aquarius, this may be focused on our individuality and being true to ourselves; how we hold ourselves back and box ourselves in; how we view the world as a whole and look toward the future; how we find hope and what we dream of; how we come together as one and see connections with others; and how we exercise independence responsibly.

Mercury retrogrades in Aquarius twice while Saturn is in Aquarius. They are:

January 30th (10:52AM ET/7:52AM PT - February 20th (7:52PM ET/4:52PM PT) 2021

Starts 26 degrees Aquarius; ends 11 degrees Aquarius (does not conjunct Saturn at any point)

January 14th (6:41AM ET/3:41AM PT) - 25th (10:04PM ET/7:04PM PT)

Starts 10 degrees Aquarius conjunct Saturn (13 degrees Aquarius)
Mercury retrogrades back to Capricorn on January 25th so is only retrograde in Aquarius for 11 days, but starts conjunct so this may be stronger

New and Full Moons in Aquarius:

When a new moon occurs in Saturn's sign, this can offer opportunity to make progress and find a way through limitations and responsibilities, and manage them more easily. Conjunct Saturn, and this can be a time of great heights. When a full moon occurs in Saturn's sign, this can bring culmination of hard work, setbacks with recklessness, and a deep feeling of weight and baggage. Conjunct Saturn, and this can be a time where we really get a good view of where we're going, our direction, if we're doing things right, and a little karma.

While Saturn is in Aquarius, the new and full moons in Aquarius are:

New Moon: February 11th 2021 2:06PM ET/11:06AM PT @ 23 degrees 17 minutes Aquarius

- No aspect to Saturn (or any planets)

Full Moon: July 23rd 2021 10:37PM ET/7:37PM PT @ 1 degree 26 minutes Aquarius

- No aspect to Saturn (or any planets)

Full Moon: August 22nd 2021 8:02AM ET/5:02AM PT @ 29 degrees 37 minutes Aquarius

- No aspect to Saturn but widely conjunct Jupiter (amplifying and expanding); this is also the anaretic degree, the last degree of a sign and a point of crisis energy in transit, and it's the second full moon in a row in Aquarius, so energy is smoking hot for this full moon!

New Moon: February 1st 2022 12:45AM ET/January 31st 2022 9:45PM PT @ 12 degrees 20 minutes Aquarius

- Square transit Uranus and widely conjunct transit Saturn so that aspect from 2021 may kick back up again in 2022 with the new and full moons; we're extra challenged with responsible changes and unconventional goals

Full Moon: August 11th 2022 9:36PM ET/6:36PM PT @ 19 degrees 21 minutes Aquarius

- Square transit Uranus and conjunct transit Saturn so that aspect pops up again

New Moon: January 21st 2023 3:54PM ET/12:54PM PT @ 1 degree 33 minutes Aquarius

- Widely sextile Jupiter in Aries, so at the end of the transit a little beneficial, positive energy to take initiative

Transit Planets in Aquarius:

When the transit Sun is in Saturn's sign, this shines a light on Saturn energy: goals, lessons, responsibilities, limitations. When transit Mercury is in Saturn's sign (and not retrograde), this gives ideas and plans for those goals, lessons, responsibilities, limitations. When transit Venus is in Saturn's sign, this brings an ease to Saturn's energy; when transit Mars is in Saturn's sign, this gives super energy and drive to pursue and take initiative with Saturn.

The transit Sun in Aquarius:

January 19th 2021 (3:39PM ET/12:39PM PT) - February 18th 2021 (5:43AM ET/2:43AM PT)

January 19th 2022 (9:38PM ET/6:38PM PT) - February 18th 2022 (11:42AM ET/8:42AM PT)

January 20th 2023 (3:29AM ET/12:29AM PT) - February 18th 2023 (5:34PM ET/2:34PM PT)

Mercury in Aquarius (not retrograde):

January 8th 2021 (6:59AM ET/3:59AM PT) - 30th 2021 (10:52AM ET/7:52AM PT)

February 20th 2021 (7:52PM ET/4:52PM PT) - March 15th 2021 (6:26PM ET/3:26PM PT)

January 2nd 2022 (2:09AM ET/January 1st 11:09PM PT) - 14th 2022 (6:41AM ET/3:41AM PT)

February 14th 2022 (4:53PM ET/1:53PM PT) - March 9th 2022 (9:32AM ET/6:32AM PT)

February 11th 2023 (6:22AM ET/3:22AM PT) - March 2nd 2023 (6:51PM ET/3:51PM PT)

Venus in Aquarius:

February 1st 2021 (9:05AM ET/6:05AM PT) - 26th 2021 (8:11AM ET/5:11AM PT)

February 6th 2022 (2:29AM ET/February 5th 11:29PM PT) - April 5th 2022 (11:17AM ET/8:17AM PT)

January 2nd 2023 (9:09PM ET/6:09PM PT) - 26th 2023 (9:32PM ET/6:32PM PT)

Mars in Aquarius:

March 30th 2020 (3:43PM ET/12:43PM PT) - May 13th 2020 (12:17AM ET/May 12th 9:07PM PT)

March 6th 2022 (2:22AM ET/March 5th 11:22PM PT) - April 14th 2022 (11:05PM ET/8:05PM PT)

The biggest thing to focus on in terms of other planets in Aquarius is Jupiter, who enters Aquarius just after Saturn on December 19th 2020 (8:07AM ET/5:07AM PT). Remember they conjunct early in Aquarius on December 21st 2020. Jupiter hung around in Capricorn while Saturn was at the end of its time in Capricorn, and they now ride together for the start of Saturn's time in Aquarius. It's a big time for the future, for change, for independence, for individuality, and for finding our place. Jupiter helps expand on this energy and give more energy and opportunity for it to set ourselves up for the rest of Saturn's time in Aquarius.

Jupiter in Aquarius periods:

December 19th 2020 (8:07AM ET/5:07AM PT) - May 13th 2021 (6:35PM ET/3:35PM PT)

July 28th 2021 (8:42AM ET/5:42AM PT) - December 28th 2021 (11:09PM ET/8:09PM PT)

And to note, Pluto moves into Aquarius just as Saturn exits (March 2023). So Saturn in Aquarius might actually be setting us up for the many years Pluto will be in Aquarius, transforming our dreams and future in profound ways.

Lesson 3: Saturn in Aquarius in the Houses

1st House: This can bring extra focus to being independent and an individual. You have to stay true to yourself, no matter what. You may have more difficulty with outward connections with others, and can maintain more casual connections for a time until you blocks are dealt with. There may be more focus on your future, what you hope for yourself, and you can work to take initiative with that. This may be a time for building for the future.

2nd House: You may focus on trying to adhere to values that are more true to who you are now. If you've been living according to values that aren't really you anymore, you may experience some challenges. The values you focus on now may be different from what they've been in the past. You can also make changes financially, working at being more fiscally mindful but in different ways.

3rd House: Your outlook can become more practical, yet more focused on the future and your dreams. You can see things long-term and work on practical plans, or take unconventional approaches to your goals. You may have to slowly think outside of the box and unleash your mind from limiting restraints, but this can happen over time rather than all at once.

4th House: This is the bottom of the chart, so you can return to your roots or get back to basics in some way, and focus on your inner core and foundation. You may need to take a different approach to how to strengthen yourself emotionally, and there can be changes made with your home or family life. You may be more emotionally detached for a time, yet what you feel may be much deeper.

5th House: This transit can make you more serious about love, and perhaps more detached and less emotional until you sort through issues or learn some lessons. You can become more invested in those relationships where you have a solid connection, and may lose interest in any you don't. You can carefully push outside of your comfort zone creatively, and this can be a great transit for taking creative dreams seriously.

6th House: You may work to make some changes in your work or daily life, and these changes can come over time. If frustrated in your work or daily life, there may be a temptation to be impulsive, but this can backfire if not thought out. Stress can grow unexpectedly but can also be managed in unconventional ways. You can have a better time seeing the details in the very big picture.

7th House: You may be more detached at times in your relationships, or give preference to casual relationships or friendships. The ones that you do connect with fully, you can become more committed to. You can distance yourself from those you're not interested in. There may be changes in your relationships. You may work harder to find where you fit in the world.

8th House: You can focus on what lurks beneath the surface, and dig deeper inside of yourself. This tends to be a heavy transit where you're being faced with inner demons and emotional baggage. It's an excellent period for letting go, and becoming more detached from the things that have triggered you. You may have blocks to work on with intimacy or sharing.

9th House: You may feel limited in terms of what you can expand, but still feel lighter than when Saturn was in your 8th house. You may work on pursuing new opportunities and making new changes in responsible ways. You can take interest in things that you want to become an expert at, and really dive in. Experiences may be new and different, and serve some sort of purpose.

10th House: This is the house Saturn naturally rules, and you can feel some things you've worked on for a long time can come to fruition, hit a high point, or you may experience a setback if you need to do things differently. Your direction and plans may change, and you may need to think unconventionally with whatever you want to achieve in order to make progress.

11th House: This is the house that naturally connects to Aquarius, and you can feel extra focused on your future, your hopes and dreams, and feel more independent. You may feel you have to be more realistic and practical with your dreams, which can lead to some depression of hope, but you should focus more on coming up with good plans for your dreams instead of giving up on them.

12th House: As the last house, this period is often about retreating and reflecting so you can let go and come to terms with the past. It's an excellent time for purging in every way, and you can free yourself up when you do. You may want to work on old issues that have kept you from being true to yourself or believing in your dreams.

Lesson 4: Saturn in Aquarius Aspects

The aspects that Saturn makes to your natal chart in Aquarius will be more focused on the link to independence, individuality, change, the unconventional, and your dreams. Conjunctions by transit Saturn can make it so whatever Saturn is touching, your hopes and dreams with whatever it rules, your ability to be yourself and do things on your own, and the changes associated with it are extremely important. You have to go about them in the right way (responsible and thoughtful and considerate), yet not keep yourself boxed in. There is most likely a lesson to be learned, especially if it's the first time Saturn has conjuncted the position in your life; if the lesson has already been learned, you can see positive results, feel more hopeful, and more independent.

Squares and oppositions by transit Saturn in Aquarius to your natal chart bring out challenges with whatever being touched rules. The challenges likely feel limiting and restricting, and can cause you to lose hope or box yourself in too much. Internal and external blocks can become apparent, and this can keep you from moving forward. Lessons learned quickly can remove the block and allow you to try to find some space; lessons not learned can lead to feeling even more hopeless and overwhelmed. It can be tempting to give up on whatever being hit rules, but this likely doesn't solve the problem. Keeping an eye on the future and remaining objective can help.

Sextiles and trines by transit Saturn in Aquarius to your natal chart can help you make progress, slowly but surely, and you can feel hopeful yet realistic. Plans can be practical yet unconventional, and you can find it easier to stay true to yourself with whatever being touched rules. This can be a great time to look forward and make changes that bring stability and security. This is stabilizing energy and not too disruptive at all, and any potential lessons may be minor or already learned.

Note: The major aspects to Saturn in Aquarius are:

Conjunction: Aquarius

Sextile: Aries and Sagittarius

Square: Taurus and Scorpio

Trine: Gemini or Libra

Opposition: Leo

Lesson 5: Saturn Returns With Saturn in Aquarius

A return occurs when the transit planet comes back to the exact same position it was at when you were born. Saturn returns every 28 - 32 years, and the first is associated with becoming an adult, while the second is associated with midlife (and if you live long enough for the third, golden years). The first return is usually the hardest, and the second should be easier if you've done things right; if you haven't, then the second can be worse than the first.

Saturn is the teacher, the one who has lessons for us to learn, and this is associated with the sign and house location in your natal chart for you. This shows your greatest lessons and what you have to learn to make Saturn happy and avoid the major Saturn problems.

Those of you with Saturn in Aquarius will experience a Saturn Return during this transit. Saturn in Aquarius has to learn how to be true to yourself, embrace your individuality and independence, and be open to change. You have to find your place in the world, where you belong, your people, and until you do, you can feel like an outcast or on the outside looking in. If this is your first Saturn Return and you haven't done these things, you can be forced to face them. If this is your second Saturn Return and you still haven't, there can be some major upheaval to manage; but if you have done it, you can slide into middle age more easily.

Extra: Transit Saturn Interpretations

These are the general interpretations for transit Saturn in the houses and aspects from the site for reference:

Transit Saturn in the Houses

Transit Saturn in the 1st House

When transit Saturn is in your 1st house, you see yourself for exactly who you are, and this helps you to be more realistic. Denial isn't something that you can do well now. At the start of this transit, you may see something important happen in your life, for good or for bad. You can spend this transit improving your confidence, not by getting approval from others, but from finding something to pull from within yourself. You often walk away from this transit feeling much stronger and more secure in who you are as a person. You can make changes to yourself, your body, or your outlook. You can take on more responsibility and feel more mature. If you haven't been behaving well, making good decisions, or denying your responsibilities, this may be a difficult time for you. Try to correct what you've been doing wrong, and it'll improve. Often, this transit is an excellent time for starting something new, but it'll be long-term and not something you see rewards from in the short-term. You're making plans for many years to come.

Transit Saturn in the 2nd House

When transit Saturn is in your 2nd house, you must work hard, and you take a more practical approach to what you do. The 2nd house rules your finances, and while Saturn is here, you may feel financially insecure, especially at the start of this transit, even if you're not actually financially strapped. It's just worry that something could happen, and you want to secure yourself by having a better cushion. The chances of something actually happening tend to be lower during this transit. This is an excellent time to save instead of spend, to create a long-term financial plan that creates stability in your life, to conservatively invest, and while you may not win the lottery, you can see financial growth over the period of this transit that's slow but steady. You can learn how to work hard and yield results.

Transit Saturn in the 3rd House

When transit Saturn is in your 3rd house, your optimism is tempered. Reality sets in, and you seem more serious and thoughtful. You may be prone to worry and bouts of anxiety. If you're predisposed, you can suffer depression or other mental illness during this aspect, but only if you haven't been doing the proper work to get to the core issue that causes it in the first place. You try to streamline your daily life, cutting out anything that seems wasteful, and become more productive. The way in which you communicate may change, and you become more effective in how you communicate to the world. You could be more quiet as you do that. You may experience issues in your community, with your neighbors, with a sibling, or with technology. If in school, you can go one way or the other, struggling or flourishing.

Transit Saturn in the 4th House

When transit Saturn is in your 4th house, you work on strengthening your home base, your family, and your inner foundation. You could clean up your home, remodel, or move, though none of those things will likely go smoothly and some blocks/delays occur. You can focus on issues with your family and try to work through them to strengthen the ties you have with them. You may decide to cut ties with a family member, recognizing that the relationship can't be saved. You can take on more responsibility with your family, trying to help them as best as you can. You may feel like you're too restricted in your life as this transit begins, and have to deal with whatever issues are causing that restriction. This is a good time to tackle your inner foundation and try to make it stronger, more solid, and something durable that will sustain you for some time.

Transit Saturn in the 5th House

When transit Saturn is in your 5th house, your sense of fun may be drained temporarily. You don't feel up for parties, socializing, romance, your hobbies, or anything that can be construed as fun for you. You're more serious, and carefully consider what gives you joy in life and why. You have to look at what your own talents are and be honest with yourself about them. Don't deny what you're good at and let it waste away. For creative types, you may feel uninspired as this transit begins, going through a creative block, and have to find inspiration within yourself. In romance, you may feel like you have less love in your life, and have to learn to feel worthy of love because you're a good person and not because of what other people think of you. Self-love is something that you may need to cultivate.

Transit Saturn in the 6th House

When transit Saturn is in your 6th house, you can analyze your daily life, your routine, and see how you can do better. This transit gives you the opportunity to become more productive, efficient, and clear out the stuff that is clogging up your daily life. You can bring more structure and order to your life, get better organized, work out better work schedules, and improve your health. You may experience a health issue during this transit, usually as it begins, and this forces you to confront your health and change your lifestyle. You have to be more responsible when it comes to your health, and this transit makes you learn that. When it comes to work, you may take on more responsibility, or feel stress from too much pressure. It's likely not as bad as you think it is, but you need to learn to manage your time better and how to focus your energy.

Transit Saturn in the 7th House

When transit Saturn is in your 7th house, you can experience some issues in your existing relationships, and have to face whatever comes up. The problems that do arise are meant to help you improve the relationship, strengthen it, and make it more lasting. Some relationships may come to an end though. You learn what you want and need from someone, what commitment means to you, and what you can contribute to a relationship. You may have some blocks in starting new relationships/partnerships, and be more cautious with what you commit yourself to. This can be a good thing, where you do commit to something important, or to someone. You're more responsible in your relationships, and you're concerned with having good, fulfilling relationships, even if it means having far fewer relationships.

Transit Saturn in the 8th House

When transit Saturn is in your 8th house, you need to address your issues with power and control. You may be a control freak, or always hand over the power to someone else, or find yourself constantly struggling over power with people. You have to figure out what the cause of these problems are and work at it. If you're an obsessive personality or have any addictions of any kind, that can come to light, and you're forced to face it. If it's impacting your life in an unhealthy way, Saturn will try to get you to change. Which brings us to change, one of the themes of the 8th house. You can undergo an important transformation during this time, something that is profound and significant, uncomfortable and stressful, but will change your life for the better if you let it. You may need to face issues related to sexuality, intimacy, and shared resources. This is usually a heavy, serious transit.

Transit Saturn in the 9th House

When transit Saturn is in your 9th house, you may question your faith and beliefs. You look at how they've been impacting your life and whether they make any sense anymore. You could abandon your faith temporarily, and feel less optimistic than usual at the start of this transit. You have to understand what inspires you and what your true beliefs are. You need to work on blocks with your confidence levels as well, and how you stand in your own way. If in school, you could have some difficulties at first, wondering if you're studying the right thing, but for many, this is a good time to learn, and older folks may go back to school or begin studying something new that takes them in a different direction. You can experience delays or blocks with travel, or have issues with the law.

Transit Saturn in the 10th House

When transit Saturn is in your 10th house, you focus on building a strong foundation for career success. The 10th house rules your career, and you want to work hard at making career advancement and experience success. You assess the success you've had up until this point, and focus on the failures that you've endured. If you've been working hard and smart, this transit can bring plenty of rewards for your work. If you haven't been, you'll face the consequences of your actions. You want to know where you are in your life currently, and how the world views you. You may not like how vulnerable you feel around other people. You can take on more responsibility and be more mature, but it can be a burden.

This is a transit that can go either way, being an extremely successful period in your life where you make great strides, or one full of pressure and problems. It all depends on what you've done up until this point, and whether you've been living properly or not.

Transit Saturn in the 11th House

When transit Saturn is in your 11th house, you may see many friends and acquaintances leave your life. You're not satisfied with superficial relationships, and this aspect cleans them out. The people who leave aren't as good for you as they should be, though you may feel lonely at first. You want more meaningful friendships and connections with people. You can become more focused on your future, and your dreams. You may give up on one of your dreams at the beginning of this transit, believing that it's not realistic enough. It would be better to work hard towards your dreams, and take a slow but steady approach. You're more practical and realistic with what is required of you to achieve your dreams, and this can help you make a successful plan to attain them. You can dedicate yourself to a cause during this time, trying to find your place in the world.

Transit Saturn in the 12th House

When transit Saturn is in your 12th house, you experience a serious, heavy period of time where you have to clean out your life carefully. You need to let go of baggage and of the things that hold you back. It's not easy to face your issues, but you have to. The things that you hide from yourself, that you deny are there, are the things that will likely require your attention the most. You can't run, escape, hide, or deny any longer. Continue to do so, and you'll face consequences. Fear will grow, and you'll develop more unhealthy, destructive habits. There's so much we carry with us that we don't need over time, and this transit gives us the chance to get rid of that. It's daunting and it takes time, but it's rewarding. This isn't usually a good time to begin anything new, but rather is a time of endings. Be introspective and face your subconscious. This is a good time to start therapy. By the end of this transit, you should have much less weight on your shoulders, and when Saturn moves into your 1st house, you're ready to hit the ground running.

Transit Saturn to Natal Planets

Transit Saturn to Natal Sun

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Sun, whatever you've been doing in your life, you'll now see the results. If you've been working hard and smart, you'll be rewarded for that. If you haven't been, you'll be punished. Be honest with yourself about the work that you're doing in your life, and whether or not you're making the best decisions possible for your life. You can experience issues with your body, especially as a result of stress. This is a good time for beginning new projects or paths in your life that are long-term, and to act more responsibly.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Sun, your life is more stable and there usually doesn't seem to be as much upheaval. You feel good in your own skin, and are aware of exactly what you know you can and can't do. This makes it a good time for working on projects, and you can be more confident. You may be more serious, responsible, and realistic. The sextile or trine tends to be very quiet in their influence with Saturn to the Sun.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Sun, challenges, blockages, and various issues tend to present themselves, especially if you haven't been making good decisions. Often, you'll have problems come up, and they're meant to show you areas of your life that you've been neglecting or mistreating. It can be a good time to live more minimally, and scale back on the things you don't really need, as well as behave more responsibly and maturely. Harsh Saturn aspects are a challenge, especially to the Sun, but they offer the most opportunity for growth if you work with them.

Transit Saturn to Natal Moon

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Moon, you need to evaluate your life and whether or not your emotional needs are being met. If you feel alone and without help, this transit can make that apparent to you, and you must try to remedy the problem. Looking within can be helpful, though it may also be unsettling if you let it be. Confront your issues and try to resolve them. You could feel like you have a lot more responsibility, and some may try to avoid it, but that's not the right thing to do. This time can be difficult emotionally if you don't try to use it positively and just run. If you deal with the energy, you can develop greater strength and awareness of reality.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Moon, you're not as emotionally in conflict with what must get done. You can handle your responsibilities well, and deal with whatever comes at you. Your emotions are less likely to rule over logic, making this a good time for decision-making. You can feel more like a real mature adult.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Moon, your emotions are likely to be on the downside, and chances are, you'll be more pessimistic than usual. Watch for depression, especially if you're prone to going that route anyway. You may emotionally react to situations in a way that isn't worth it, making them worse in your head than they really are. Loneliness can set in, and problems with the home, mother, and women are likely. It's hard for you to deal with life right now, and you're definitely not up for trying new things or doing anything risky. This transit brings extreme caution and insecurity. Just let things go at their own pace and try not to speed everything up or let yourself get too down. Allow yourself to recharge and assess what's important to you, and if a change in your routine is needed, implement it with care.

Transit Saturn to Natal Mercury

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Mercury, you become more serious. You don't want to deal with anything frivolous, and just want the facts, plain and simple. You need to work on communicating better by eliminating excess and waste in your communication style. You can also work harder and accomplish more small tasks. You may not be as sociable as usual, and have no patience for superficiality. You might seem a little distant from people, and less willing to share your thoughts and ideas.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Mercury, you can bring structure and order to your ideas, everyday tasks, and abilities. This allows you to hone your skills, get more work done, and be more efficient. You can sift through your ideas and approach them in a practical manner, which makes them more doable. Any studying done now will stick with you for a long time, but will take longer for you to absorb. You're more cautious, and want to think things through before doing anything.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Mercury, you have a more negative outlook on life. You only see the reality, and have a hard time finding hope. You may feel like people don't understand you, and when you try to share, they're not receptive, and you take it to heart. It's likely that you're not communicating as effectively as you think you are. You can have a hard time stepping back to see the big picture, and get lost. You need to confront mental patterns and thoughts that have been holding you back.

Transit Saturn to Natal Venus

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Venus, all of the issues that you have in relationships become quite obvious to you now. You may distance yourself from people so you can clear your head and try to deal with these issues. You can be more afraid of rejection and less willing to take risks in love. You're more realistic about relationships and what it takes to make things work. If you've been in denial about a partner or loved one, you won't be anymore. You can become more committed. You can also deal with your finances.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Venus, you can be more responsible financially and in your relationships. You take these matters more seriously, and can commit yourself to someone romantically, or to a new financial plan. You see these matters more realistically as well. You have an easier time dealing with people older than yourself, parents, bosses, and mentors. You can take the things you enjoy and make them into something profitable.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Venus, you may feel more isolated. If that happens, you need to assess how you're treating other people in relationships, and whether or not you're pushing people away. You're much more realistic, but you can also be pessimistic regarding love. This is a time for you to forge stronger ties with your loved ones, and release those that don't really matter.

Transit Saturn to Natal Mars

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Mars, you have to restrain yourself to a degree. You could be faced with problems if you become too aggressive or frustrated. Calm yourself down and try to go about your business in a civilized manner. You'll have to mature during this period, and figure out more productive ways to deal with anger.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Mars, you can control your energy much more easily than usual. You have self-discipline and can work hard for what you want without wasting any time or energy. You're more mature and practical, which allows you to be productive. You're aware of what your physical capabilities are, and can make improvements to your body.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Mars, something stands in the way of you getting what you want. You try to push against it, but that only makes it worse. You're not as excited about what you're doing, and take a more practical approach. You can't go overboard now, needing to learn to slow down and get control over your energy and drive.

Transit Saturn to Natal Jupiter

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Jupiter, you don't feel as optimistic as usual, and are forced to be realistic about life and the situations that you're in. It can feel restricting, binding, and you may try to fight against it, but that won't work out very well. You need to work as hard as you can and try to make sound decisions. If you can do that, you can make great strides.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Jupiter, you're extremely productive and get a lot done. It's not forced on you, and you want to work. When you do, you can accomplish more and experience less resistance along the way. You're practical in your approach, but believe in your abilities.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Jupiter, you don't feel that things are going to work out, and you don't think there's a point to trying. Then you experience all sorts of problems and you feel like life is piling on. You may not be able to get things done in a timely manner, and have to put in more work than you want to. You have to work hard to fight against the restrictive nature of these aspects.

Transit Saturn to Natal Saturn

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Saturn, you experience your Saturn return, when Saturn returns to the exact placement it was at when you were born. Your first Saturn return, which usually occurs between 28 and 32, is seen as a marker for entering adulthood. For some, it's a trying time where they experience problems related to issues that Saturn wants them to overcome in order to mature and grow. For those who have already done the work pre-return, this can be a time of reward. Most are the former though. Each subsequent Saturn return you experience is supposed to be easier and more rewarding, as long as you don't stubbornly refuse to learn any lessons.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Saturn, you can be more productive than usual and get a lot done. You're efficient, hard-working, and dedicated to what you should do as opposed to what you want to do.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Saturn, you're unhappy with any restrictions that you may be feeling in your life. Until now, you may have just ignored them, but now, you can't miss the glare. Any restriction you feel, you'll turn on and try to fix, usually by enacting some sort of big change, but it may not go as well as you think.

Transit Saturn to Natal Uranus

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Uranus, you become keenly aware of the restrictions in your life, and you want to break out of them immediately, or let them get you down. You need to take a risk but do so in an orderly fashion. Plan for it, and prepare yourself for what will come.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Uranus, you can implement changes in your life in a practical way that won't completely capsize the boat. You want to take advantage of the energy, otherwise it may pass without much going on.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Uranus, you can be pulled in two directions, wanting things to remain as they are but hating the restrictions, or wanting things to completely change but terrified of doing so. Try to merge the two and make changes slowly and with careful consideration.

Transit Saturn to Natal Neptune

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Neptune, you may be forced to face reality and see that a dream you have isn't attainable. Make sure you're being truly realistic about it and not just pessimistic, because it may be something you actually can do. Watch for being overly pessimistic about life and being too worried about things that don't really matter.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Neptune, you can make your dreams real with a little hard work. You can see how to go about achieving your dreams in a way that's practical and will get you what you want.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Neptune, you may be out of touch with reality, and have a hard time seeing the real problems in your life. You can be more afraid of what you imagine than of what is really there. Don't let your mind wander too much and your imagination take control, because it's not very helpful right now.

Transit Saturn to Natal Pluto

With transit Saturn conjunct your natal Pluto, you can focus your will and determination to accomplish great things, but you have to control yourself, especially your anger. Any anger that you may be hiding can come out and create problems for you. If you see this aspect coming, try not to hold in so much so you don't explode.

With transit Saturn sextile or trine your natal Pluto, you can be productive and get a lot done. Your focus is good, you know exactly what you have to do, and you have discipline and restraint.

With transit Saturn square or opposite your natal Pluto, you may find yourself surrounded by people who have bad intentions, and need to protect yourself. Any issues with people that you've been bottling up won't want to be bottled any longer. You may struggle for power or control, and be manipulative or manipulated. Try to focus on something productive.
